TO BEAT WILLIAMS.

A VIGOROUS CANVASS IN THE XIITH SENATE DISTRICT.

QUALIFICATIONS OF DAVID SCHWARTZ, THE GOOD

The fight against Alexander S. Williams, who was nominated by the Republicans for the Senate in the XIIth District, is growing in intensity and eatnests ness as Election Day approaches. A large portion of the party has at no time approved the candidacy of the former police official, whose nomination was forced by the machine, and The Tribune immediately after his nomination declared that his election would be at diagraces to the city. Such general dissatisfaction was minifested ever his candidacy that all self-respecting Republicans in the district straightway turned their backs on him only to find themselves confronted with Samuel J. Foley, the Tammany nominee, who is no improvement upon illiams as an alternative. To remedy this state of affairs the Good Government Cub decided to put up a man fit to be voted for, and selected as their standard-bearer David Schwartz, of No 137 East Fifteenth-st. Mr. Schwartz did not accept his nomination until a week ago, but a most vigorous campaign. He is a New-Yorker by birth, and is the proprietor of a trunk store at No. 17 Bible House. In politics he has always been an Independent Democrat as regards National issues, but in city affairs he has based his choice of candidates upon their own personal fitness for places. A year ago he was an active worker in the City Vigilance League and the Good Government Club. He has never been a candidate for an office until this year, and was induced to run at this time only by the urgent appeals of the best citizens in his district, who were unable to choose between Williams and Foley because of the absolute unfitness of

Mr. Schwartz is enthusiastically supported by the Good Government Club of the XIVth Assembly District, which nominated him, and by dissenting Republicans, many of whom are working day and night in his fnierests. Williams's unconcealed hostility to organized labor has secured to Schwartz the full vote of the Central Labor Union, it is contended, and Williams's famous statement made before the Lexow Committee that he would not believe a Hebrew under oath has turned against him the thousands of that race in the district.

Another big factor in the XIIth District is the German vote. Schwartz, who is of German parentage, has declared in favor of local option on the excise question. His friends feel confident that on this platform he will win the German vote from Tammany, as the Germans are beginning to realize that Tammany would be powerless to change the excise laws with a Republican Governor. A careful canvass of a dozen or more tailor shops in the district, each of which has one hundred or more employes, has revealed the fact that Williams is highly unpopular there, and that as between Schwartz and Foley, the employes are practically unanimous in favoring the Good Government Club nominee. The Sanders Club, an organization of young men, is doing much excellent work in Schwartz's behalf in certain quarters of the district.

It is now an open secret that the Good Government Club orators will for the remainder of the canvass give little or no attention to their own city ticket in the XIIth Senste District, but will bend their energies toward the election of Schwartz. Two massineetings in Schwartz's here of them. The first will be held to-morrow evening in Germania Hall, at No. 118 Columbia-at. At the second, which will be held on Friday evening. It is possible that another big reacting will be held in Cooper Union on Saturday evening.

DR. PARKHURST WILL SPEAK ON FRIDAY. HE WILL VISIT THE DISTRICT OF EX-INSPECTOR WILLIAMS AND GIVE HIS OPINION OF THAT CANDIDATE-A FEW WORDS ABOUT

night concerning the candidature Inspector Williams. Is is known that Dr. Parkhurst is intensely opposed to the election of the ex-inspector, and there are good reasons to believe that when he does make public reference to Mr. Williams, the doctor will not mince his words or state his opinions in any qualified terms. Dr. Parkhurst was to make an address on Friday last on this theme, but hourseness prevented him from fulfilling the engagement. He will, however, speak on Friday evening at the Arlington Hall, St. Mark's

When seen last night at his house Dr. Parkhurst said to a Tribune reporter: "I shall not publicly speak anywhere until next Friday be-cause of the necessity of taking care of my voice. Last year I was unable to occupy the pulpit in my church for six weeks through throat troubles induced by addressing public meetings. I have no desire to undergo a similar affliction this year, and therefore I am to some extent husbanding my voice. Five minutes' speaking in a room full of tobacco smoke is sufficient to inconvenience me for voice. Five minutes' speaking in a room full of tobacco smoke it enificient to inconvenience me for five weeks."

Dr. Parkhurst was not disposed to say anything for publication regarding Mr. Williams, or to discuss the latest phases of the political situation. "I shall refer to both," he said, "on Friday next, and in the mean time I have nothing to say."

Asked for his opinion upon the motion of District-Attorney Fellows before Justice Ingraham yesterday securing the dismissal of the Indictments against Police Captains Donohue and Doherty and Sergeant Felix McKenna, he said that the indictments of the men were the direct result of the investigation of the Lexow Committee, and that part of that body's labors had consequently been rendered nugatory by the action of Colonel Fellows. Dr. Parkhurst, while unwilling to make any statement upon the merits of the case, added "Next to the great hope which I have that Tammany Hall may be defeated this November's the hope that there may be elected in the November following a District-Attorney who will not be recognized as the guardian angel of all uncased crimmais. If I were a blackmailer or had committed an outrageous assault and wanted to be spared the inconvenience of Sing Sing the first move I would make would be to try and get on the soft side of District-Attorney Fellows, and if I went about it in the proper way I should not altogether despair of success. The District-Attorney's office (and I think this is sometimes forgotten) is the axis upon which everything tending to a permanent and substantial reform in this city will have to revolve. Dirty streets are bad enough, but we have found in Colonel Waring an antidote for that sort of uncleanliness. There is dirt, however, that is dirtier than any that Colonel Waring's street cleaners have to deal with, and it is dirt which only a stiff broom whelded by intelligent voters at the polis a year from this November will suffice to dispose of."

NEW CANDIDATES CERTIFIED.

Albany, Oct. 28.-Theodore L. R. Morgan, o Syracuse, has been certified by the Secretary of State to the county clerks comprised in the Vth Judicial District to fill the vacabcy caused by Smith M. Lindsay's declination of the Democratic nomination for Supreme Court Justice.

J. Stanley Ellsworth has been certified to the county clerks of St. Lawrence and Franklin as the Democratic candidate for Senator, in place of William P. Cantwell, declined.

REPUBLICANS HOLD OPEN-AIR MEETINGS The Republicans of the IVth Assembly District were not allowing the grass to grow under thele feet last night. They held three open-air meetings. and the results were most satisfying. One truck carried a band and another the speakers. The first place of meeting was the corner of Jackson and Cherry sts., where there was an orderly son and Cherry sts., where there was an orderly assemblage of men, who listened attentively to the speeches. William J. Finn, who is the candidate for Assembly, made a good speech, which went home to the men's hearts, and Charles E. Abbott did the same. From Cherry-st, the speakers moved to Grand and Henry-sts, and there was great cheering when Dr. George W. Cram, the Senate candidate, mounted the float. He was, however, unable, owing to a cold, to speak. Edward Well, of the XXXIId Assembly District, made a capital speech, and the cold, to speak. Edward Well, of the XXXIId As sembly District, made a capital speech, and th-night was ended by a well-attended meeting at Mad-

TAMMANY'S LOSS IN THE REGISTRATION. THE DOWNTOWN DISTRICTS, ITS STRONGHOLD, SHOW A GREAT FALLING OFF THIS YEAR-

THE TOTAL FIGURES, BY DISTRICTS. The falling off in the registration in the districts below Fourteenth-st, which furnished the bulk of the Tammany pluralities for years prior to the turnover of 1894, was the talk of the town among poli-ticians yesterday. Tammany reached her high-water mark when she polled 114,000 votes for Hugh J. Grant in 1890. Grant's plurality of more than 22,000 was secured in the Tammany districts referred to. The Tammany vote proper has never since reached that figure. The average falling off of 35 per cent in the registration which closed last Saturday night was looked upon as so injurious to the prospects of the Tammany ticket that some well-informed Republicans and State Democracy men claimed the city for the Fusion ticket by a safe majority.

The result has certainly produced a demoraliza tion in the Tammany ranks wholly unlooked for by John C. Sheehan and James J. Martin, the directors of the Tiger's canvass, three days ago. The turn in the tide was just as surprising to many of the managers of the Fusion side.

'Landslide' is no name for it," said a prominent Fusion leader yesterday. "I don't pretend to ac-count for it, but I tell you there has been a marked and wonderful change in public sentiment in the last three or four days. I thought last week that we would have to count the German vote five-sixths to seven-tenths against us. But I find that the Germans of my district, Garoos, Gazoos and all, are preparing to support the Union ticket. It may be the second sober thought' that is doing the work, but the greatest changes are going on in our favor. "They were beginning to be felt before the end of last week. Since the registration has closed and anybody can now see that Tammany has utterly falled to get her usual vote on the registry books, the tide has set in for the Union ticket with a rush. The Tammany leaders are already badly frightened. If the tide continues to keep running Fusionward for another week Tammany will get a worse beating in this town than it had a year ago."

The police, under the direction of Acting Chief Conlin, yesterday began a thorough investigation of the registry lists to see if there had been any fraudulent registration. From now on until Election Day a house-to-house canvass will be made and the address of every registered voter verified.

Mr. Conlin said: "From what I know now I do not believe we will have more than one hundred warrants for illegal registration on the outside."

The corrected figures for the four days' registration in each Assembly district are as follows: and wonderful change in public sentiment in the last

QUALIFICATIONS FOR REGISTRY. ATTORNEY-GENERAL HANCOCK THINKS JUDGE BARNARD HAS BEEN ERRONEOUSLY REPORTED.

Syracuse, Oct. 28 .- "I think Judge Barnard's decision has probably been erroneously reported," said Attorney-General Hancock to a "Journal" reporter to-day. "He will undoubtedly have something further to say, so that it will be clearly un-derstood as to what his interpretation of the election law with reference to registration really is. It is certainly important that, if he be correct, appear at once, or that if he has been misquoted the correction should be made without further delay. "Section 31 of the Election Code provides that the inspectors of election of each election district in cities and in villages of 5,000 inhabitants or more shall hold four meetings for the registration of oters at a place designated before each general election and before each annual election for city officers, to wit: On the fourth Friday and fourth Saturday and third Friday and third Saturday before election. These days are to be known re-spectively as the first, second, third and fourth meetings for registration. It is further provided It was expected that Dr. Parkhurst would that the inspectors of election shall also meet upon the second Saturday before each general election and election of city officers for the purpose of cortion. and election of city officers for the purpose of correcting the registration lists by adding or striking off the names of any person pursuant to an order from the court or any Judge thereof, as provided by Section 37 of the election law.

"Section 37 provides that if the Board of Inspectors at any meeting neglect or refuse to place upon the list the name of any person that is entitled to have his name placed thereon, application may be made to any Justice of the Supreme Court of the judicial district in which said election district is, or any Justice of the Supreme Court residing in the county adjoining such judicial district, or to any County Judge or any Judge of a Court of Record of the city in which such election district is, and such Justice or Judge may upon sufficient evidence, and upon notice of not leas than twenty-four hours, order such mame added to such list and such list shall be corrected accordingly. It further provides that in case the name of any person not qualified to vote in such election district shall appear upon such list, application may be made by any elector of said district. For an order striking such name from the list upon-proper notice, etc.; and that the Judge or Justice, upon sufficient evidence; may order such name to be stricken from the registry.

"The object of the statute appears to be that there shall be four days for registration in cities, except New-York and Brooklyn, and in villages of 5,000 inhabitants or more, and one day to add or strike from the lists such names as shall be piaced on the list or taken therefrom by order of the court. If Judge Barnard has discovered any further or different provision of law, as I said before, he will undoubtedly consider it important that he state his views and reasons for the purpose of preventing any further confusion or misunder-standing."

COSTLY AND TROUBLESOME DELAY.

Watertown, N. Y., Oct. 28 .- County Clerk Pierce of Jefferson County, has received a notice from Secretary of State Palmer announcing the filing of the nomination of Theodore L. Morgan, of Syracuse, for Supreme Court Justice in this dis-Syracuse, for Supreme Court Justice in this dis-trict on the Democratic ticket in opposition to William E. Scripture, of Rome, the Republican candidate. The ballots for Jefferson County are about haif printed, and this late nomination in a district which gives 12.00 Republican majority involves considerable trouble to county officers and expense to the people. It makes necessary the reprinting of the entire batch.

IN FAVOR OF EXCISE REFORM.

The Excise Reform Association will hold a mass meeting at Chickering Hall this evening. Seth Low, Felix Adler, A. Von Briesen, Commissioners Roosevelt and Parker and other speakers will dis-Roosevelt and Parker and other speakers will discuss Sunday opening, local option and the excise question in general. The Excise Reform Association is non-political, and the sole object of its existence is to secure the passage of just and sensible excise laws, fair to all parties concerned, Among the names enrolled in the association's books are those of Cornelius Vanderblit, Samuel P. Avery, John Claffin, Augustin Daly, Dorman B. Eaton, W. B. Hornblower, Joseph Larocque, Anon P. Stokes, General Wager Swayne, Spencer Trask and the Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix.

REPUDIATING THE DEFECTION TO TAM-MANY.

A typewritten statement was issued yesterday by fourteen members of the committee of thirty-eight O'Brienites which selected the candidates of the anti-Tammany Democracy ticket, repudiat-ing the action of several members of their Nominat ing Committee who were determined on an alliance with Tammany Hall and a support of its liance with Tammany Hail and a support of its ticket. The determination of the members of their Nominating Committee, who desired to help Tammany, is declared to be inconsistent and in direct opposition to which their organization was formed. The statement is signed by the following mebers of the Nominating Committee: James M. Brady, F. M. Bixby, Joseph H. Steinhardt, Hugh Reilly, Alfred T. Ackert, Frank A. Spencer, James A. Moorehead, Theodore B. Steele, Vernon Seaman, Edward C. Baker, Henry Campbell, John J. Brennan, L. Hitch Harrison and Thomas Walsh.

close watch at the polls for anything in the nature of election frauds at the coming election.

JOHN FORD'S VIGOROUS CANVASS. THE LIVELY CAMPAIGN IN THE XIXTH SENATE DISTRICT.

A canvass of special vigor is that which John Ford is making in the XIXth Sense District, Mr. Ford is the Republican candidate, end although his nomination was particularly credited to the Anti-Machine element of the party, he has received assurances of earnest support from all Republicans. He is about thirty-three years old, and has won his way to prominence by the force of his character and ability, His education was obtained at Cornell University without financial assistance, and as a journalist, political writer and lawyer he has earned success by unceasing labors.

Mr. Ford's canvass is of the old-fashioned kind, in which personal effort takes the place of Ma-chine support. He passes the day in answering correspondence, receiving and making visits and obtaining personal acquaintance with the voters. In the evening he frequently attends three or four political gatherings, speaking at each of the meet-ings. The various Republican associations and clubs have arranged programmes, so that every night in the week there may be found gathered in some hal or at some street corner in the open air crowds eager to hear discussions of the principles involved in the election. Mr. Ford addresses forcibly, and with considerable eloquence, each of these assemblies, and afterward receives the good wishes and friendly greetings of those who are present. Later in the evening come consultations with political in the evening come consultations with political friends and the laying of plans for the further prosecution of the canvass. The hour of 3 o'clock in the morning frequently arrives before the work of the day is over, yet Mr. Ford is again busy after a few hours of rest.

The XIXth Senate District includes all of the west side of Manhattan Island, north of Eighty-first and Eighty-ninth sts. It comprises the XXIst, XXIIId and XXXIst Assembly districts. The population is one of the most intelligent in the city, and Mr. Ford's appeals have been to the reasoning powers and high sentiments of the citizens. He dwells especially in his speeches on the necessity of electing members of the higher body of the State Legislature who will vote for a Republican Senator, and on the opposition to Tammany Hall, which was shown throughout the district at the last election. He is not extreme in his position on the excise question, but he advocates the enforcement of proper laws.

The opponent of Mr. Ford is Louis W. Schultze, formerly Coroner. Mr. Schultze is an elderly man who has been a persistent Tammany office-seeker and office-holder. The Tammany politicians are fighting desperately for him as one of their own kind. Mr. Schultze has declared himself in favor of Sunday opening of liquor-stores for almost the entire day. The stores might be closed between 10 and 1 o'clock, but otherwise there would be free entrance to them. His 'personal liberty' utterances are of the most extreme character.

Mr. Ford is the author of several pamphlets on the protective tariff, and is a close student of political affairs. His unusual knowledge of the tariff question has aided him greatly in the discussions which have taken place throughout the discussions which have taken place throughout the discussions are enthusiastic over the manner in which he has conflucted an unusually laborlous and aggressive campaign.

POPULARITY OF GEORGE L. CURTISS. A REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR THE ASSEMBLY WHO SHOULD GO TO ALBANY.

George L. Curtiss, the Republican candidate for Assembly in the XXIIId District, is a young man of good character and attainments and he is exceed-ingly popular with Republicans in the upper West Side of the city. He is in the hardware business with his father, George B. Curtiss, on Chambers-st. He has been a member of the Republican District Organization for some years and has worked hard for the success of the party. Since his nomination he has made an active canvass of the district, appearing frequently at meetings and making addresses.

Mr. Curtiss is assisted in his canvass by the fact that his Tammany opponent, John M. Delmour, is a nephew of Lawrence Delmour, Richard Croker's and his apparent desire to cultivate the favor of English aristocracy instead of that of honest New Yorkers, has made him susceptible to easy attack by Republican orators, and the friends of Mr. Curby Republican orators, and the friends of Mr. Curtiss have made the most of the opposition, both personal and political, to Mr. Croker to prevent the election of Mr. Delmour, who would be Mr. Croker's follower and obedient servant at Albany. The nomination of a candidate of some strength by the New-York State Democracy has made Mr. Curtiss's election still easier. The effect of the efforts of the friends of Mr. Curtiss and of all the active Republicans in the district has been seen in the large attendance at the meetings and Mr. Curtiss has been warmly received on every occasion when he has appeared among the voters.

DISTURBED BY JUSTICE BEACH.

HIS DECISION AGAINST THE STATE DEMOCRACY CAUSES CONSTERNATION IN THE ORGANIZA-TION-A PUBLIC STATEMENT.

The decision of Justice Beach, directing the Police Board to remove the Democratic State ticket from the State Democracy column, was the subject of a prolonged conference at State Democracy head-quarters, No. 28 East Twenty-third-st., last night, after which a statement was issued by the leaders, to correct misapprehension on the subject, it was said. The substance of the statement was as fol-said. The substance of the statement was as low-lows:

The resolution of the Police Board placed the State Democracy ticket under its emblem, the rooster, in the third column of the official ballot. If Justice Beach's decision is not reversed, the State Democracy ticket will be piaced in the eighth column. The six spaces for the State ticket at the top of the column will be blank. But the voter in sympathy with the State Democracy can mark in the circle under the rooster, and so vote for the whole of the judicial, county and legislative candidates of the State Democracy. Such voters can then mark individually the first six names under the ship (which is the emblem of the Democratic Party Reform Organization) Democratic candidates for State offices.

This is the whole effect and extent of the decision. It will have no effect whatever upon the local candidates of the State Democracy, but it is calculated to inflict injury upon the Democratic State ticket. If the decision of Justice Beach should not be reversed by the General Term of the Supreme Court, the State Democracy voters will all be supplied with sample ballots, showing the exact position of the State Democracy column (to wit, the eighth) of the ballot, with the Judicial, county and local candidates upon it.

shot to death while in the act of robbing Anthony Stauber's merchant tailoring establishment, No. 2,211 Cottage Grove-ave., at 1 o'clock this morning. The recent work of burglars made Stauber fearful of a visit from marauders, and he resolved to sleep in the store. He was awakened this morning by the the store. He was awakened this morning by the crashing of glass in the rear window, and a few seconds later a hand appeared through the hole in the glass and deftily opened the fastener so the sash could be raised. The next moment the burglar was in the store and confronted by the owner. There was a short struggle, in which Stauber fired three shots, all of which took effect, killing the burglar almost instantly.

The Ring Democrats had counted on his support right along and were expecting a good-sized check from him. General E. B. STRANGE STORY TOLD BY A BROOKLYN BOY OF HIS EXPERIENCES ON AN OYSTERMAN.

Theodore Kohlman, nineteen years old, whose parents live at No. 492 Lorimer-st., Brooklyn, disappeared on January 25 last. He was mourned as his parents for some time, but a week ago a letter came from him to his mother, and on Sunday night he returned to his home. Kohl man had left Brooklyn to see the world, he said yesterday, and incidentally to make his fortune. He had $4 in money, and managed to get to Baltimore after roaming about the country for some months. There he shipped on board an oyster dredger to Fairmouth, where, he says, he was drafted with three other men as the crew of andrafted with three other men as the crew of another oyster boat. He was to receive $14 a month. He soon learned, he declares, that he was practically a prisoner. He worked from 4 o'clock in the morning until dark, and was never allowed to go ashors. The food consisted of fat pork, beans, hard bread and coffee without sugar or milk. After trying for some time to get a letter ashore addressed to his mother, he finally succeeded. Mrs. Kohlman, on the receipt of the letter, sent a friend named Hellman to bring the boy back home.

STOLE DIAMONDS IN CALIFORNIA.

CHARLES M. COMSTOCK, FROM SAN FRANCISCO, ARRESTED IN THIS CITY.

Charles M. Comatock, a good-looking and welldressed man, about twenty-six years old, who is said to be connected with some of the leading families of San Francisco, was arrested yesterday at the Hotel Martin by Central Office Detectives Holland and Pfachler, and is now in custody at Police land and Pfachler, and is now in custody at Police Headquarters charged with stealing diamonds worth 15,500 from Mrs. Caroline Colton Martin, of Berkeley, Alameda County, Cal. He has admitted taking the jewels and has told what he did with them. The police are now waiting advices from San Francisco to learn whether they shall hold him for requisition.

to learn whether they shall hold him for requisition. Comstock's crime, it seems, was the result of a sudden temptation, and followed a year of dissipation and gambling. After leaving California with the jewels and gambling away the proceeds of their sale, he has been nearly all over the country, defrauding his friends and relatives, it is said, by means of worthless checks. The police understand that he is wanted in Providence, R. I., for defrauding an aunt there in this way.

DRAWN UP IN BATTLE ARRAY.

RAILROAD AND PIPE LINE MEN FIGHT-ING IN NEW-JERSEY.

TROUBLE BETWEEN THE LACKAWANNA ROAD AND THE WOULD-BE RIVAL OF THE STAND-ARD OIL COMPANY OVER THE RIGHT TO LAY PIPES UNDER THE TRACKS.

SEVERAL SKIRMISHES YESTER-DAY-BOTH SIDES ARMED.

Serious trouble was anticipated within a few hours at Washington, N. J., last night between employes of the United States Pipe Line Company and the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad. The former company is laying a line of pipes across the States of New Jersey and Pennsylvania, to pump oil to tidewater, as a rival of the Standard Oil Company, and has been opposed by the railroads in attempting to cross their lines. The pipeline company had succeeded in getting its pipes under the Lackawanna tracks by stratagem, and last night its men were around with revolvers, shotguns and rifles ready to maintain the advantage they had gained. The railroad men were determined in the stand they had taken, and a large force was stationed there to protect the property. Yesterday there were several skirmishes between the gangs, in which three men were badly, although not fatally, hurt. For months past the Standard Oil Company has had a detective watching the officials of the United States Company at the headquarters at Belvidere, N. J. This was known to the pipe-line company, and the plan to outwit not only the Standard but the railroad company was hatched. The plan was simple and effective. The men who have been in charge of the work in Pennsylvania concentrated their strength at Belvidere. Meanwhile a new force which had not appeared before in the course of the work was organized. The pipe line is to touch tide-water at Elizabeth, and the men who were known to the detective were kept busy hurrying back and forth between Belvidere and Elizabeth. They made frequent excursion into the country and made surveys, and ran lines, took elevations and did other things with great care and detail. As some of the points they surveyed were miles from any point the pipe line could possibly reach, their actions were no doubt mystifying.

Meanwhile carloads of pipes were carried to Belvidere and run on side tracks. These were the visible ones, but the United States Company had others which were carted miles across the country on wagons. Saturday night the company was ready for its first move. The pipe and tools necessary to put it in the ground were concentrated in the woods back of Washington. On Saturday night at dark wagon-loads of laborers from Pennsylvania started from several points to meet where the tools and pipes were ready PIPES LAID IN THE NIGHT.

For months the Lackawanna Railroad has had a watchman at the point it was known the pipeline company had selected to cross the line of the railroad. He usually watched until dark and then went home. On Saturday the watchman was watched, and he had not more than disappeared in the darkness before the invaders swarmed from the woods. Ground was broken within ten minutes, and from that time until daylight the work went on as sliently as possible, but always minutes, and from that time until daylight the work went on as sliently as possible, but always hurriedly. At midnight the trench was dug and the tunnel under the tracks of the railroad was complete. At 2 o'clock the pipes under the roadbed were calked, and the work of filling in the tunnel was begun. Daylight saw the pipes run for a considerable distance on either side of the track and the trench almost filled.

It was a few minutes after 7 o'clock when the watchman who had done duty so long reached the scene to find the usefulness of his place had ceased. He hurried to the nearest signal tower and the news of the invasion by the pipe line people was soon known to the officials. In an hour there was a special train bearing a hundred railroad latorers to the scene. The news spread through the town and a big crowd hurried to the point where the trouble was likely to occur.
The railroad men in charge of the train demanded that the pipe line people withdraw.
This was refused. The pipe line gang appeared to be small and the railroad mer began to jostle those in sight, but they desisted and scurried for their train when a couple of hundred men broke cover from the woods and started for the scene. The pipe line officials held their men in check and after a war of words in which threats predominated the railroad people withdrew.

HOUSES BUILT FOR THE MEN.

HOUSES BUILT FOR THE MEN.

Then the pipe line men made another move. During the night, while the laborers were digging and tunnelling, the carpenters were at work building two houser. The lumber had been all cut and matched before it was bround been all cut and matched before it was brother there, and by the time the first clash with the rallroad was over the carpenters had two strong and substantial buildings erected, one on either side of the twack. Two families moved in at once, as furniture had been provided.

The railroad company early yesterday sent several wrecking cars with fully equipped crews to the spot to undo the work of the pipe-line laborers. They found the pipe-line men ready for them. A few shovels were put into the ground-during the day, but not a pipe was uncovered. Several fights occurred. Two of them were severe. The pipe-line men had taken the steel parts from their picks and used the handles as weapons. In the first serious fight two men were injured, and one in the second. It was a frequent occurrence to see three or four of the rival workmen mix up in fist fights. The men injured were all pipe-line men. They are Michael Casey, John Hornbacker and Michael Grislain, all of Wilkesbarre. It is not thought their wounds are John Hornbacker and Michael Grislain, all of Wilkesbarre. It is not thought their wounds are fatal. Black eyes and swollen noses were too numerous to count before night.

Night fell with the battle line drawn and both sides ready for a renewal of the fight at any moment. A regular patrol is kept up, and the men had orders to defend the property of their symployers.

The case will probably come up in the court to-day or to-morrow. Meanwhile the situation is threatening, and a collision may occur at any time. The good temper that characterized the battle during the earlier part of the day was gone last night.

TWO MURDERERS TO DIE TO-DAY. Dannemora, N. Y., Oct. 28.—The last day on earth of Charles N. Davis and George H. Smith, the Albany County murderers, the two doomed men spen like the forty preceding ones, in the solitude of the condemned cells, where none but the guards and the prison chaplain could see them. Chaplain Cheesman visited them to-day. Both men sale they were not afraid to face their Creator, as they had fully repented their crimes and were ready for the end. Smith sent out to-day a letter desying all complicity in the barn-burnings near Albany, with which he was suspected of being connected. The death warrant was read to each man in his cell on Sunday by Warden Thayer, and although the men were pet informed as to the day or hour of death, it was understood that to-morrow, just before noon, was the time selected, as it has been on previous occasions of the kind.

To make sure that the death-dealing apparatue is all right, a bull was killed this afternoon, and everything was found in perfect condition.
